About 150 feet of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad bridge over the Bay St. Louis was burned out when fire broke out on the span about 300-400 feet from the West side of the bay last Thursday night. Repairs were completed Friday. Crossies and supporting timbers were damaged from the fire, which was reported about 9:45 p.m.

FIRE HALTS RAIL TRAFFIC ON L&N

Railroad traffic between the Mississippi Gulf Coast and New Orleans was interrupted last Thursday night when a fire broke out on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad trestle over the Bay of St. Louis.

Two trains were turned back and another was delayed Friday before repairs to the span could be completed.

Among the first to observe and report the blaze were two Mississippi Highway patrolmen, Leon Button and William Kenny, who were passing over the U. S. Highway 90 bridge north of the railroad trestle about 9:45 p.m. They radioed the highway patrol substation in Gulfport.

Another report came from Herman R. Hoda of Bay St. Louis who called the Hancock County sheriff's office about the same time and said there was "a great big fire on the bridge."

The dispatcher, Dep. Norman Vaughn, called Hancock County Civil Defense Director Bert Steffell and the U. S. Coast Guard in Gulfport. Steffell said he obtained another report from Waveland and another from the Bay St. Louis fire department which were loaded onto private boats volunteered for the task.

An 82-foot Coast Guard cutter, the Point L'Ange, was dispatched from Gulfport and left about 11:40 p.m., taking about two hours to reach the scene of the fire.

The commanding officer, Chief H. H. Vicknair, said the cutter used two fire pumps to pour about 50,000 gallons of sea water onto the smoldering timbers.

Pumper Unit 101 from the Gulfport fire department was loaded aboard a flat car about 11:30 p.m. and transported to the scene but was not utilized in pumping operations. The fire was under control when the unit arrived and the truck stood by.

Civil Defense volunteers, volunteer firemen and others from the Bay St. Louis area participated in the fire fighting during the night.

Steffell said there were three or four private boats and at least 30 persons engaged in the task.

Observers of the damage said about 150 feet of the bridge, approximately 300-400 yards from the west side of the bay, was heavily damaged. Timbers remained standing but cross ties and rails were reported out.

The blaze was extinguished around 12:45 a.m., according to Steffell, but the timbers continued to smolder for several hours.

The northbound Crescent Limited out of New Orleans was held up at Bay St. Louis Thursday night due to the fire and the southbound Piedmont-Gulf Wind was held up at Gulfport at 7:42 a.m. Friday.

The Piedmont-Gulf Wind transferred its passengers to charter buses at 8:10 a.m. for the trip to New Orleans and transferred its first class mail to trucks for re-routing.

The only other train delayed by the fire was the northbound Hummingbird, which railroad officials said was held up at the bridge pending completion of repairs.

The open deck timber pile span, which was built in 1899, is vulnerable to both fire and storms and has been plagued in the past by the 1947 hurricane when the last major repairs were made and on occasion by other fires.

However, the railroad has announced plans to construct a $4.9 million bridge of fire proof steel and concrete. Construction on the new span is expected to begin about mid-1965 and will take two years to complete.

the boat. There must be one for every person in the boat, must be a life belt, a preserver, or a Coast Guard approved cushion. In our way of thinking it is a life saving precautionary measure and should be enforced. Fines can be secured by not carrying out this order. If you don't own a life preserver they can be rented at places where boats are rented. Be sure to have one with you. 25c is a small price to pay to save your life!

Ed Sweeney and John Dahn who reside at 216 N. Beach Blvd. Garage Apts. are real sports. Ed likes to play bridge, golf and fish while John says he will take his fishing. You can find plenty of all three sports around here, fellows.

Die Jenkins from Arabi, La. loves his fishing and expects to get a lot of it while here. The water is fine and fish are biting.

Charles Gele and Louis Gele are swell guys to know. They own and operate Gele Marine Sales and Service at 839 N. Broad St. in New Orleans. They have rod and reel parts and things you might need to make your fishing more profitable.

While fishing over in Louisiana it is good to know that perfect shrimp for fishing and eating can always be gotten from Schaefer and Lestrade, 1724 Orpheum St. The shrimp are fresh, firm and when iced properly will last a long time.

A trip out of this world was made last week according to their statements by Ned Heath, Jr., Jake Morreale, Edmund Fahay, Jack Lacey, Frank Trapani, and Billy Murphy. The group left May 23rd and returned three days later. They saw two baseball games in the Houston Astrodome. This building they said is unbelievable and worthy of seeing.

Fred Burbank of New Orleans expects to visit us soon. As an outdoors man he isn't much. The only fishing he has done was to flounder over a bar. All in all Fred is a real guy and we expect to make a fisherman out of him yet. We know he is an expert when it comes to eating seafood. We'll have some for you, Fred.

Keeping up with the doings at Pass Christian Golf Club Mrs. John McDonald won honors in the best 9 and 18 hole Tournament held on Tuesday. She also won putts with 28.

The June meeting of the Bay St. Louis Division of Scouting will be held at the American Legion Home on June 24, at 8 p.m. All scouts are urged to attend.

The highlight of the summer for all of our troops & posts should be a week or more at camp Salmen. Here your unit will have an opportunity to really prove how good a camping unit it is, or to receive the expert assistance to make your boys proficient campers. There is also a tremendous opportunity for advancement for the Scout or Explorer who is interested in availing himself of the facilities & trained staff there. Explorers posts have a special program offered to them, with the possibility of a 50 mile canoe trip, fishing in Bayou Liberty & Lake Ponchartrain & lots of rugged outdoor living.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Bosch who enjoy a summer home at Waveland sent word of a new member to their family Robyn Beth. They predict that she will be a member of the fishing fraternity soon. The big bass will be here for you, Robyn Beth. Daddy and mommie will teach you how to catch'em.

Mike Lang is home on furlough with his family for a while. His hobby is catching soft crabs. Let us know how you make out, Mike.

This is another season when anglers will turn disc jockey to learn more about catching fish. Dick Kotis, President of the Fred Arbogast Company, created a first for the tackle industry last year by including a record of fishing tips with his catalog of baits. His fan club grew so fast that this year he doubled his efforts and cut both sides of the record. The new Arbogast catalog, record included, is available for a twenty-five cent

Sidé one offers Dick's words on how to catch fish around obstructions. "Fish," says Dick, "seek protection around lily pads, rocks and logs. These are the places to go for them, and this is important enough that we have devoted a whole side of the new record to tested methods of catching fish, especially bass, around such hiding places."

We have one of these records and it is good when it comes to helping beginners learn to fish.

Short oars are better than long ones when it comes to fishing in bayous and lakes which contain plenty of grass. By pulling the oars through the oar locks or ropes the grass will fall off easily.

We are always glad to have items regarding catches of fish made by yourself and friends. Just send them to Dec Elliott % the Hancock County Eagle and we will gladly publish them.

LOCAL SPORTSMAN

DICK SHADOIN

As for Dick to the best of our knowledge he was a pretty good fly fisherman but right now we think he loves playing golf best. Dick says he is always busy but makes good progress in the sporting world when off duty. We know that his foremost hobby is working for his church and a meeting is in complete without him. Keep up the good work Dick.

The Bay-Waveland Garden of the Month award was given to Mr. and Mrs. L. R. King, Pine Ridge and Fell Streets, Waveland. The selection was made by Mrs. H. J. Hicks and Mrs. Hal Greene.

BILL WOULD REPEAL OR REDUCE HIGH EXCISE TAXES

(By Senator John Stennis)

Two bills of major importance will soon be before the Senate. One is the tax bill that would repeal or reduce the federal excise taxes. At the beginning of World War II, more than 20 years ago, the Congress imposed a great number of special excise taxes on some commodities. These taxes were a war measure, many art still in effect. I have always thought that these special taxes discriminate against the item on which the tax was levied and the services they applied to, as well as the consumer. These excise taxes apply to items of everyday use such as automobiles, refrigerators, air-conditioners, telephone services, radios, TV sets, and a number of other items that people use almost every day.

At the same time, I have also been very seriously concerned about our fiscal affairs and a balanced budget. At this time our tax collections, as estimated, will exceed what we originally expected for the year although it is apparent the Budget is not going to be balanced. We have already collected $1.6 billion more in taxes this year than first estimated. Also, about $1.4 more than estimated for the fiscal year 1966 will be collected. If this tax bill calls for a reduction in excise taxes somewhere in the neighborhood of the increased collections already made and additional amounts expected to come in, I am certainly going to vote to repeal or reduce these excise taxes. I believe that the bill will be held within those limits.

I frankly would like to increase the personal exemption in the income tax law which would result in a completely fair, across-the-board reduction in income taxes for all taxpayers. However, the tremendous tax structure under which we operate makes this difficult to do, but I hope it can be done later on.

The other proposal is one by the President to repeal Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act. For Congress to repeal that section of the Taft-Hartley Act would be in effect to abolish the right-to-work laws of 19 states, including Mississippi. The Mississippi Legislature passed a right-to-work law in 1954. In 1961 it was submitted to the people in the form of a constitutional amendment, and by a vote of more than 2 1/2 to 1, the people voted in favor of this Section 14(b) of Taft-Hartley. In effect, they voted for that because they voted to put the right-to-work law in our Constitution.

To repeal this section now would be another instance of the Federal government moving in on the states within their province of legislation.

Furthermore, we have used this section greatly to our advantage in getting new and fine industry to locate in our State, and to change that now would greatly handicap us in that way. We are getting increased numbers of payrolls at fair wages, and I believe we will continue to do so, especially if we keep our right-to-work law. I think it's clearly to the interests of a great majority of our people that we keep this law, and therefore I will vote against repeal of Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act.

SECOND INSTALLMENT DUE JUNE 15 ON ESTIMATED RETURNS

Here's important information for individual taxpayers who file estimated Federal income tax returns. If you filed an estimated tax return in April, your second installment of tax due on your 1965 estimated income must be paid by June 15, 1966, to the Internal Revenue Service.

If you first met the requirements for filing a declaration of estimated tax after April 1, but on or before June 1, you are required to file your estimated tax return for 1965 on Form 1040-ES by June 15 and pay at least one-third of the estimated tax by that date.

If the income you expected to earn during 1965 has changed, you may be required to file an amended declaration of estimated tax. A blank form for use as an amended return is printed on the back of the bill which Internal Revenue sends you for an installment of estimated tax. Mr. Martin said, Form 1040-ES (Amended) also may be obtained from any Internal Revenue office.

Detailed tax information on this and related subjects is contained in Document No. 5111 which is available upon from Internal Revenue Service.

SOCIAL SECURITY INFO ABOUT AGRICULTURE EMPLOYEES

Internal Revenue Service reports inquiries are being received from farmers and farm workers about Social Security taxes.

According to J. G. Martin, Jr., District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Jackson, Mississippi, agricultural employers can get valuable information from an official publication of Internal Revenue Service. It is "Agricultural Employer's Social Security Tax Guide." This booklet is available at no cost from Internal Revenue Service.

BAWI: Yesterday's Dream Becomes Today's Reality

An industrial miracle has been performed.

Forty years ago, when Mississippi Power Company began operating, the state's economy was overwhelmingly agricultural with 80 percent of her people employed in farming pursuits or industries closely related with it.

This year, for the first time in Mississippi's history, the number of people employed in industry exceeds the number employed in agriculture. The state's Balance Agriculture With Industry dream of 1936, established by Governor Hugh White and carried forward today by Governor Paul Johnson, has become a reality.

Essential in the transformation has been abundant, low-cost electric power. Our company is proud to have shared in this diversified industrial progress both as a supplier of electricity and as a salesman for our state through the efforts of our Industrial Development department.

The future holds the promise of even greater things to come. And the enterprise, resourcefulness and initiative of the people of Mississippi will continue to make our present-day dreams tomorrow's realities.

Jack Stenton

WHO BATS FIRST ??

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his family. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Part of playing any game is to learn how to settle the inevitable arguments. In a league in which nobody has a coin to toss, this is the time-honored method for getting the game started without a squabble. But there are other games to be played, in other leagues. Life for each of us brings many occasions for conflict. And they don't all yield to simple techniques like twirling a bat around one's shoulders with just a couple of fingers. Earnest Christians believe that our faith can point men to the right attitude and action in times of stress. That's why, as we face the conflicts of life, we always hope the other fellow will behave like a Christian. And he's hoping as much of us. Why not meet him in Church next Sunday? That's where right attitudes often begin.

definitely is unconstitutional and made this and other arguments against the bill in the Senate, little notice was given to our arguments by the press, radio and television outside the South, although proponents received full coverage. The bill now goes to the House, where it is hoped it can be blocked or amended so it will have to come back to the Senate for more debate. The proponents will, of course, try to force it through without change and thereby prevent its return to the Senate. I know the Mississippi delegation will do the very best they can in the House, but things are stacked against them. If it should be considered by the Senate again, I shall certainly continue to oppose it with all my strength. The passage of this bill marked one of the darkest days in the history of the Senate when constitutional principles fell victim to shallow arguments based on passion and emotion instead of reason and law. Aside from the approval of an unwise and unconstitutional law, there is another most disturbing and unfortunate aspect to the Senate passage of the Voting bill. The precedent has now been established that debate can be cut off and constitutional principles abolished by closing the door on any opportunity to fully expose the dangers of such legislation to our people. Since 1962, full discussion and debate has been cut off three times in three years. Two of these three occasions have involved civil rights legislation. It is becoming increasingly clear that the closure rule can be suspended at the whim or urging of a particular pressure group. The protection the Senate offers to constitutional government has been greatly impaired. I shall certainly do everything within my power to repair that damage by continuing to insist on full and free debate, particularly when issues fundamental to our Constitution are in the balance.

HOUSING CREDIT IS AVAILABLE TO SENIOR CITIZENS

Elderly people, if they live in rural areas, need not give up the idea of building, buying or repairing their homes on credit. This would come from Max H. Stone, Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor, serving Hancock County.

Stone said citizens who are 62 years and over, living in a rural community of 2,500 or less, may be eligible for a 33-year loan bearing 4 percent interest to buy an older home or build a new one.

The FHA Supervisor said elderly residents may also be eligible for smaller loans for home repairs. He pointed out the increasing demand in small towns for rental units designed to meet the housing needs of older folks.

The Farmers Home Administration can loan direct funds to non-profit organizations for construction of senior citizen rental housing units designed for independent living.

Funds for construction of senior citizen rental housing units may also be provided by private investors with FHA guaranteeing repayment.

This fiscal year through April 30 Farmers Home Administration has advanced $5,586,876 to senior citizens for construction, buying and repairing of individual homes. The total loaned is up 17 percent over a similar period last fiscal year.

Over 1200 elderly people in the 30 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands were able to get loans for new or improved housing through the senior citizen rural housing program of Farmers Home Administration.

Another $1,248,510 was advanced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture Agency for the construction of rental housing units for senior citizens during the same period, July 1, 1964 through April 30, 1965.

"Farmers Home Administration's senior citizen housing loan program offers citizens, 62 years and older an opportunity to have housing suited to their needs in the com-community in which they have spent their working years," Stone said. "This program also stimulated the local economy by providing jobs for workers engaged in the construction industry and customers for local trades and services."

In 1962 Congress authorized Farmers Home Administration to make direct loans and insured loans to individuals and corporations to finance rental housing for the elderly.

FHA direct loans for senior citizen rental housing in rural communities bear 3.75 percent interest, with up to 50 years for repayment. But loans insured by the agency for rental housing currently bear 5.75 percent interest. Borrowers have up to 40 years to repay.

Additional information about the Senior Citizen Rural Housing loan program is available at the Farmers Home Administration Office, Agricultural Center Bldg., Bay St. Louis, Miss.

CAMPBELL OFFERED TO GET SUMMER JOBS FOR YOUTH

A nationwide campaign to find jobs this summer for at least one-half million 16-21 year olds has been announced by President Johnson.

The President made an appeal to employers throughout the nation to provide at least one job for youths in this age group. He asked larger employers to add one extra summer trainee for each 100 employees.

The first employer to respond to the President's call was the Jerald Corporation of Philadelphia, Pa., an electronics equipment manufacturer which wired Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor its intentions to hire at least 15 under the program.

Following the President's announcement on the Youth Opportunity Campaign on Sunday, the Secretary of Commerce wrote 900,000 employers asking their co-operation.

"Surely the summer offers more opportunity for the two million youths out of school than lying around all morning, sitting down all afternoon in front of TV sets, and prowling around all night," Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said.

Letters were also sent to governors, mayors, school officials and others to encourage their participation in the campaign.

To get the program under way, President Johnson directed:

... federal agencies to find munity in which they have spent their working years," Stone said. "This program also stimulated the local economy by providing jobs for workers engaged in the construction industry and customers for local trades and services."

In 1962 Congress authorized Farmers Home Administration to make direct loans and insured loans to individuals and corporations to finance rental housing for the elderly.

FHA direct loans for senior citizen rental housing in rural communities bear 3.75 percent interest, with up to 50 years for repayment. But loans insured by the agency for rental housing currently bear 5.75 percent interest. Borrowers have up to 40 years to repay.
